VMC Foundation Mission

The Valley Medical Center Foundation (VMC Foundation) is an independent, community-driven 501c3 nonprofit organization founded to support and protect Silicon Valley's most vital public healthcare institution — Santa Clara Valley Medical Center Hospitals & Clinics. In partnership with SCVMC, the VMC Foundation raises philanthropic dollars to improve existing services, pioneer new models of care, and advance the cause of high-quality healthcare for all.

CHRIS WORRALL

For our community. For Chris.

Like you, the VMC Foundation had big plans for 2020. We were to relaunch foundations at O'Connor Hospital and St. Louise Regional Hospital, both now part of our local public system. We saw big opportunities to expand healthcare programs for homeless patients and looked forward to completing the Women and Children's Center at SCVMC.

And then COVID-19 hit. Just like you, our world turned upside down. Nearly overnight, we became a relief organization, charged with finding resources to protect healthcare workers and beat back the disease. The response was overwhelming. Over 5 million items of protective gear were donated by the community, giving local hospitals the supplies they needed. Millions of dollars were also contributed, allowing the VMC Foundation to purchase medical equipment and technology for rapid testing, telehealth, and — finally — vaccinations.

A year later, we had cause for optimism, both for ending the pandemic and resuming our 2020 work. Then came the shocking news that our beloved President and Executive Director Chris Wilder suffered a major stroke. We suddenly knew that we would spend the rest of 2021 without him. Faced with the unimaginable, we came together as a board and staff and did what Chris would have done — lead with compassion, joy, and an unwavering commitment to the cause of high-quality healthcare for all. None of us got into this work because we thought it was going to be easy. As the saying goes, nothing worth doing ever is. After the hardest of years, we're ready to dig in again — for frontline workers fighting to end this pandemic, for our community battered by this dreadful disease, and for our leader, Edward Christopher Wilder, who now needs us all more than ever.

To our supporters and champions everywhere, thank you for making it possible.

In service,

Dennis

CURRENT PROJECTS

The communities hit hardest by COVID-19 are low-income, communities of color that face economic and racial discrimination in accessing adequate health services. The VMC Foundation has been proud to support efforts by SCVMC and the Public Health Department to proactively bring economic support and vaccines to these communities.

- Our work with the PEACE Partnership helped 590 underserved families in East San Jose with COVID-19 relief funds
- Supplied county mobile team with iPads and resources to go door-to-door to sign up residents in underserved communities with vaccine appointments
- Purchased Public Health “VaxMobile” to grow mobile vaccine program
- Giveaways to promote Latinx, LGBTQ+ and teen-specific vaccine clinics
- Funded multilingual pediatrics vaccine promotion campaign

Building Toward a Healthy Future

Like a Multivitamin: is a color installation by local artist Leah Rosenberg in the Women and Children's courtyard. Different palettes speak to the range of emotions that visitors may experience.

Healing our Frontline: is a project designed to support the mental and physical well-being of our frontline healthcare workers affected by COVID-19. Programs provide fun and contemplative activities to ease the mind.

New Ambulances: the VMC Foundation is supporting SCVMC to establish an inter-facility Critical Care Transport Ambulance Program which can achieve better care for patients, cost savings for the public system and reduce strain on emergency services.

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF PUBLIC HEALTH, SJSU

I give because I strongly support VMCF's mission to care for our most vulnerable populations. VMCF helps make this happen by driving and supporting important programs, which will help us achieve our ideal of a more equitable society.

Gary Guthart
CEO OF INTUITIVE

This year our family was proud to give to the VMC Foundation to help health-care workers on the frontlines have what they need to safely support our county hospitals and families. We are deeply thankful for their tireless life-saving efforts during the pandemic and we hope that our contribution, together with those of others, help provide them with both resources and a sense that the community is standing with them in support.

Zhao Chen and Family
COMMUNITY DONORS

I saw many brave health workers committed to their duty even without enough protection. I am deeply moved by the American people's spirit of devotion and wanted to make a contribution to fight the virus with them.

Raquel González
